

SUMMARY

Started my professional career with TCS as an associate for a client from BFSI sector where I was introduced to some tools used for data management. In addition to creating SOPs for two processes, I gained knowledge of MIS (daily work reports). My second employment was with Amazon UK's Seller Support division, where I used to respond to customers' queries via email. In addition, I was given the chance to join the QC team due to my productivity and efficiency. Lastly, I joined Patterns as the customer service specialist and started working with a client who provided printing services. Here, part of my job responsibilities include responding to customer inquiries, assisting graphic designers with their work, and maintaining departmental collaboration to ensure the project runs well. I had the good fortune to receive training as a project manager's backup for a client with similar needs.
